Officer and Committee Reports

Kate Moore reported that the program for March will be a “lace-in” with an opportunity for members to share what they have been working on.

Gail MacLean reported that Mary Mangan has agreed to fill the role of apprentice/assistant Newsletter Editor.

Jill Hawkins reported that the transition to the new membership levels on the website is complete.

Announcements

Jill Hawkins asked members to please share their remembrances on long-time NELG member who recently passed away; lace teacher and friend Lies Stolk on the website. She will share them with Lies’ daughter, Marion and family.

Gail MacLean mentioned a new publication, “Masters and Makers”, is being offered by the former publishers of Lace Express. A link will be posted on the website and Gail will include it in the newsletter.

Jill Hawkins will send a card to Carolyn Wetzel on behalf of NELG, expressing sympathy on the passing of her father.

Jill also announced an upcoming OIDFA lecture by Angharad Rixon entitled “Knights in Shining Lace”.

Devon Thein gave an update on the IOLI virtual convention, UNCON.

Gail and Jill reported on the Board’s discussion of the sharing of our newsletter with other lace groups.

The meeting was adjourned at approximately 12:30.
